SMOKY EYES

Sultry lids are a runway classic, and you can give yours a metallic edge by applying silver, bronze, or gold shadow and liner along your lash lines. For Gianfranco Ferré's show, lead artist Benjamin Puckey mixed metals to get "graphic bold eyes."

PAIR WITH... A SLEEK PART

You don't want your hair to compete with your smoky eyes, so try a polished, close-to-the-head style. An architectural-looking part will keep your tresses on trend, with hair worn brushed back like at Carolina Herrera, in a slick ponytail at Elie Saab, or looped at Gucci. Make the look last with Pantene Pro-V Stylers Strong Hold Gel ($4.99). ■
