6 Hand Creams for Winter

This winter has been extremely cold in my part of the country. That coupled with working around nurses, medical equipment and students on a daily basis and I wash my hands a LOT. These are a few hand creams I've come to rely on to keep hands soft and moisturized.

Votre Vu Duette ($23) – a deeply moisturizing lip balm and decadently rich hand crème in one package. This recipe of nourishing and protecting sunflower, grape seed and jojoba oils combined with moisturizing and healing aloe, wheat proteins and natural sun filters develops into the perfect treat, anytime of the day. Contains UVA/UVB sun filters. The almond/coconut scent is glorious! I keep this in my nightstand and apply both the hand cream and lip treatment before bed.
