

BEAUTY &gt; CELEBRITY BEAUTY

Inside Kiersey Clemons's Winter Beauty Diary at Sundance

JANUARY 22, 2018 8:06 PM
by LAURA REGENSDORF

First things first: a winter-proof skin-care arsenal, complete with Sunday Riley face oil, body balm by Votre Vu, a hydrating cream by Darphin, and La Roche-Posay sunscreen (high-altitude sun is no joke). Clemons covered up her freshly shorn hair—more Los Angeles chill than Utah arctic—with a chin-length bob, making a case for a smart wig as the new ski hat. A steaming mocha came with a red-lipped portrait, while a cheeky pose in an amethyst-purple bath earned a well-placed emoji. If good friends (actress Sasha Lane) and good snacks (post-party pizza) got her through the three-day whirlwind, Clemons offers a parting recipe for getting back in the groove: One sheet mask plus one de-puffing jade roller equals one mint-condition complexion.

